LONG DESIRED PLAYERS' CLUB ACTUAL FACT

Organized Yesterday Under Department of English.

DR. MacMILLAN'S IDEA.

Need of Developing Interest in Dramatic Matters To Be Met.

What promises to be one of the most popular and flourishing of undergraduate activities at McGill came into being yesterday with the organization of the Players' Club.

For a long time the Department of English, and especially Dr. MacMillan, have entertained the idea of a society of this kind, feeling that the means for the proper study of the drama were inadequate at the University, and that the lack of brilliancy shown in theatrical attempts of recent years might be overcome by stimulating proper and sane education in dramatic art. As the first step towards raising McGill's histrionic standard the Department issued word that a Players' Club would be organized, and invited those interested to meet and to determine upon a constitution.

As a result of this appeal, some sixty men gathered in Room 7 of the Arts Building at five o'clock yesterday afternoon to go about the business of organizing the Club. Dr. C. J. MacMillan briefly outlined the state of affairs at McGill. He recalled the Readers' Club which existed before the war, and explained its collapse as being due to a tendency to run to "pink teas." He commented on the prominence at other universities on the continent of societies like the Players' Club, and sketched the proud results attained by different men trained in the Harvard Dramatic Club.

As to the activities of the new organization, Dr. MacMillan suggested that it produce one or two plays a year, and that it take a prominent part in the pageant to be put on next fall in connection with McGill's Centennial Celebration.

Throwing the meeting open to the election of officers, Dr. MacMillan temporarily took the chair.

Mr. A. S. Noad, of the Department of English, was unanimously elected to the Presidency.

Dr. MacMillan was then nominated for, and with great enthusiasm elected, Honorary President.

Mr. J. A. Taylor, of the Department of Physics, was elected Vice-President for the men's section.

An R. V. C. Vice-President will be chosen if the co-eds care to become part of the Club.

The Secretaryship will be left to a co-ed as well, but a temporary Secretary was appointed.

T. L. Bullock was elected Treasurer. A further executive committee of ten members, five men and five women, was decided upon.

R. Hall, R. C. Harris, D. H. Moore, S. D. Pierce and F. H. Walter were chosen to this committee.

It was carried without discussion that if R. V. C. care to become part of (Continued on Page 3.)

SKATING PARTY VERY SUCCESSFUL

Newfoundland Club Skate at M.A.A.A.—Members Dine at Edinburgh Cafe.

If the weather gods had been consulted they could not have assigned a better night for a skating party than was on Thursday. The members of the Newfoundland Club met at the M.A.A.A. Rink at 8 p.m. The ice was in perfect condition, and the music was of the usually high standard.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. MacLean, formerly of Newfoundland, also attended with the members. Mrs. MacLean was the chaperon for the evening, and the men as well as the fair sexes agreed that her decisions were always timely.

About 10:15 the whole party retired to the Edinburgh Cafe, where supper was served and reservations had been made. Everybody seemed to be so happy that even the last dance found several of the members on the floor.

The success of the evening largely depended on the President, C. F. Davis, and to him much credit is due for such a record success.

TEA DANCE IN AID OF NEW S.C.M.

Tickets From Co-eds or J. Lalanne

TO-DAY — 4 O'CLOCK.

At R.V.C. in Support of the Students Christian Association.

This afternoon at four o'clock, in the R.V.C. Assembly Hall, a Tea Dance is to be held in aid of the Students' Christian Association. All preparations have been carefully carried out in order to ensure the afternoon's being a success, and it is certain that all those who attend will thoroughly enjoy themselves. This Tea Dance, like the one held early in the session, is held under the auspices of the R.V.C. Undergraduate Society, and it is expected that it will be even better organized and managed than formerly.

Only a few such teas are given by the R.V.C. during each year, and as two are already over, everyone who possibly can ought to attend this afternoon. Here is an opportunity for those who have never before attended an R.V.C. function to find out from experience and not hearsay only how delightful they are. We feel quite sure that any who come to-day will make a big effort to be present on all such occasions in the future.

This is also a splendid opportunity for athletes who are not able to attend the College dances on account of training. Come this afternoon and have a perfect dance without the forbidden late hours. Out-of-town men, too, here is your chance to meet some of the college students and share a good time with them, and all for only seventy-five cents.

Several tickets are still available, and may be had from almost any R.V.C. girl or through Mr. Lalanne. Get yours as soon as you read this, and don't forget.

The Time—To-day.
The Hour—Four o'clock.
The Place—R.V.C.

PHILOSOPHICAL CLUB.

The members of the Philosophical Club executive are reminded that a sitting has been arranged for them for Saturday noon, Jan. 29th, at Notman's studio.

The executive of the Athletic Association will meet at Notman's at 12:30 sharp to-day, for the group picture for the Yearbook.

Members of the executive are urged to be there sharp on time so as not to keep the others waiting.

MANY ENJOY EVENING AT UNION DANCE

Sir Arthur and Lady Currie Present.

SPLENDID EVENT.

"Great Event" Was the Remark Made By All Who Were There.

Over a hundred and fifty couples were present at the Union Dance last night, and all were agreed that no better-arranged or more enjoyable social event has been seen at McGill for many moons.

The Union was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the prevailing color scheme being red and white, while palms and floral decorations enhanced the coziness of the many sitting-out places arranged for the dancers. These were a special feature of the arrangements and were universally popular.

The various numbers were announced by means of a large red and white thermometer at one end of the hall—a feature which was at the same time novel and convenient.

Supper was served at two sittings and was of the usual high quality which we have come to associate with all the Union catering this year.

Sir Arthur and Lady Currie were among the principals of the evening, the other patrons and patronesses being Dr. and Mrs. J. A. MacMillan, Miss E. Hurlbatt, Dr. and Mrs. Brown.

Dancing began promptly at 8:45 p.m., and continued until nearly 2 a.m., and even then it was only with reluctance that the dancers could turn away from the seductive strains of the orchestra.

Another novel feature which added to the artistic effect of the evening was the multi-colored balloons which were provided for the ladies.

The greatest credit is due to the Union House Committee for their energy and initiative in making the dance such an unqualified success, and especial mention must be made of President John Copeland, whose efforts to this end have been unflagging.

Those present were as follows: Patrons and patronesses—Sir Arthur and Lady Currie, Miss Hurlbatt, Prof. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, Prof. and Mrs. Fred Brown, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. MacMillan.

The Misses Flora Grimson, Mildred Eakin, Marjorie Legatt, Ruth Ayer, Legge, Ruth Foster, B. B. Reynolds, Dorothy Herbert, Irene Ryan, Edith Gillespie, Mary McPhail, Ogilvy, Silham, Lumb, Muir, M. England, M. Small, P. Ward, Edith Holbrook, Gladys Rutherford, Jean Maxwell, E. W. Cameron, E. Sylvester, D. Aylen, G. L. Hutchison, H. Elder, K. Godwin, C. Brown, G. Brown, M. Smyth, B. ## CHEMICAL SOC. HEARS ADDRESS

Mr. Sproule Discusses Causes of Defects in Metals.

Yesterday afternoon the Chemical Society heard an address by Mr. Sproule on the Chemistry and Metallurgy of Mechanical Service Failures. The speaker described the various faults in the metals which developed when subjected to mechanical stresses. These may have formed during the manufacture of the metal or have resulted from accident. Metallographic methods, which comprise the examination of fresh sections of the part, are able to estimate the rate of cooling to which the metal was subjected, the segregation of impurities during cooling, and the porosity and straction of the material. The speaker showed many sketches illustrating the presence and development of faults in mechanical parts. Considerable discussion ensued, after which Mr. Sproule was given a hearty vote of thanks, and the meeting adjourned.

He who does all his praying on his knees does not pray enough.

VOCAL TEXTBOOKS

There is a very widespread opinion amongst certain classes of students that the royal road to learning is by way of faithful, nay, even slavish attendance at every scheduled lecture. To such people it matters little whether they are really acquiring any permanent benefit from their professors or not. However, the mere formality of sitting through a period of fifty minutes or so, and attempting to get down on paper the dictated remarks of a professor is, in itself, an utter waste of time. Here at McGill with our childish "seven-eighths attendance" rule, the student has little or no choice, but there are undoubtedly certain lecturers from whom it is impossible to derive the slightest benefit or stimulus, but whose classes, nevertheless, one is obliged to attend.

But although the undergraduate is precluded from showing his preference by attending only those courses, from which he feels that he is deriving real benefit, it is none the less within his competence to distinguish clearly between a real professor and a mere talking-machine. No matter what the subject may be, the professor with personality, with a real and vital grip upon his subject, never fails to hold the interest and attention of his class. Too many preceptors are mere vocal text-books. That they are intimately acquainted with their subject simply results in a greater degree of impersonality and a consequent deadening of interest. It is the professor who can take his subject-matter and stamp it with the hall-mark of his own personality, and who can lend to it the color of his own opinions, whose lectures are most willingly attended. Such a professor must inevitably exert a notable influence upon the minds of his students. The force of sincerity and personal conviction that lies behind his lectures, is the surest way of arresting attention and stimulating thought.

As for the other type of professor, the dry-as-dust exponent of mere technicalities, the proper place of which is between the covers of a text-book, he is simply boring his hearers and occupying valuable time that might be spent to much greater advantage.

Luckily, there are not many professors of the latter class at McGill, but there are undoubtedly a few. Their identity could readily be disclosed were the authorities to decide upon the abolition of the compulsory rule. In a very short time the professors in question would be condemned by the silent verdict of the empty class-room. Let us hope the time is coming in the not too distant future when McGill students will be granted that inestimable privilege, that much-needed relief—the "beneficium abstinenti"—from such lectures.

R. V. C. NOTES

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT OF STUDENTS.

An attempt was made lately to obtain information concerning summer employment of students (1920). Very short notice was given and the information incomplete.

Students who had no opportunity of recording their names are asked to call at the Secretary's office at any time convenient to them to-day (Saturday) or on Monday, and to add their names to the lists, stating the kind of work, the date at which it began, and the date at which it ended. The lists will be found on the table of the Secretary's office, with the names on separate lists for each year.

R. V. C. THE DANTSANT.

Any girls who have not been able to sell the tickets which were given them, are asked to return them as soon as possible to the Porter, R. V. C., in order that they may be sold to those who are still hoping to get them.

HOCKEY.

The college team will be chosen on Saturday at 12 o'clock noon, when there will be a practice against the Physical Eds. Will the following girls be at the rink at 12 o'clock:

L. McKenzie
 G. Mills
 K. Cameron
 K. Godwin
 M. Fry
 E. Snyder
 V. Foley
 F. Brown
 A. Roy
 C. Robertson

FOURTH YEAR vs. SECOND YEAR.

A game between the above teams will take place at 9.30 a.m. to-day. The line-up will be as follows:

4th Year. 2nd Year.
 Godwin.....Goal..... Kerr
 Dart.....Defence..... Slack
 Cameron..... Pick
 Mills..... R. Wing..... Evans
 McKenzie.....L. Wing..... Campbell
 Campbell.....Centre..... Canning
 Spares—4th Year, Macpherson, 2nd Year, Wighton, Campbell, Beatty and Teed.

SKI CLUB.

Science '23 will meet at the Look-out to-day, between 3 and 4 o'clock to take attendance.

THE SERVICE STATION "Free Air"

Whenas in cabs my Julia goes,
 The cabman, rubicund of nose,
 Jogs up the meter, as he knows
 My love, nigh boundless an it be,
 Surpasses not his bills, for she
 Is fare to him, though fair to me.

A man once declared that he didn't care who made the laws of a country so long as he wrote its songs. If he were alive now and writing the present-day songs, it is more than likely that his statement would be taken at par. The question is, would he come in when it was wet?

Yesterday the News Board of this enlightened sheet gathered at the studio for their annual (Annual?) picture. The photographer signified his readiness. In filled all the high foreheads.

Photographer—"Are you all in?" Staff, with one voice, and heartily—"We are."

Photographer (passing up the best chance of saving several lives that he had ever had)—"Well, then, we'll get on with the picture."

Proving That They Still Age Early in The Far West.

(From the Edmonton Journal.)

"Four youthful criminals, ranging in ages from one to twenty-five years, left Edmonton over the C.N.R. for Prince Albert this morning, where they will serve long terms in the penitentiary. All four were sentenced for hold-ups at the point of a revolver."

One shudders to think of the yearling bandit poking the muzzle of an automatic into the third vest button of a corpulent member of the bourgeoisie.

Perhaps the most formidable privately owned navy at present cruising any of the seven seas, according to Doc Cooper, who is no mean authority on marine matters, is the Dollar Line on the Pacific coast. It is the Doctor's deeply ingrained opinion that each of these vessels is a capital ship.

We have been attracted of late by the title of a popular song, "I Wish That I'd Been Born in Borneo." We have no idea in what manner the original authors treated the subject, but the following is our conception:

I Wish That I'd Been Born in Borneo.

I wish that I'd been born in Borneo,
 Down in the Malay Archipelago,
 Whether in Brunel far back
 Or in the vales of Sarawak,
 Or in the fastnesses of the British North,
 Or on life's journey I had set forth
 In (literally) Dutch,
 Under the foot of Kimbalu,
 I should like it, shouldn't you;
 'Neath a casuarina tree,
 What better starting place for me?

To be born in Borneo
 Is not to be borne in Borneo,
 For much is born that simply can't be,
 Even in far-off Pontianak
 Beside the sounding Sarawak,
 Which pauses not until it strikes
 The sea.
 So one must watch one's step,
 Show signs of life and pep—
 And one may do an eerie shimmy shiver
 Beside the great or little Dyak river
 If one suspects that 'neath a tapan limb
 Head-hunters watch their chance to noddle him.
 Those folks would pluck a cranium
 As we would a geranium.

To be a fellow-countryman
 With the wild, unwashed orang-utan
 Or with the clattering wah-wah
 (The Borneolithic rah-rah)
 Is not a common honor, I declare.
 To stalk the stealthy felis
 There known as Macrosceles,
 And to use his hide for carpets is a privilege rightly rare.
 One may eat the flesh or nest
 (This is no idle jest)
 Of Cypselus Esculentus.

The subject is momentous,
 And, when I come again,
 If I say where or when,
 I'll elect 'neath a Kayu Tembeau
 On the Limbang River
 At Kota Baru
 To be born (as a native, 'twixt me and you)
 In Borneo.

By an unfortunate omission the observation re the Arts dancers lost all of its point last week. The following is the correct version:

The Arts Dancers Must Be Engaging Signor Toscanini.

(From the Toronto "Varsity.")
 "Where does the money go on the Arts Dance?—In these ways:—approximately $75,000 more than is necessary for an orchestra; $50.00 or more for programmes, of which at least 50 per cent. is excessive; about $400.00 for 'cats,' no comment necessary."

A Clean Knock-Out.

 "At last the day has been set when all the McGill boxers will be given the opportunity to display their true mettle before a large audience of critics."

The proper treatment for a large

Welcome to all services.

On Monday at 8 p.m. a social hour for young people will be held in the Lecture Hall, which students are cordially invited to attend.

VARSITY GAMES.

Tickets for the Varsity Hockey and Basketball games will be put on sale next Monday.

THE DANTSANT.

Students desiring to obtain tickets for the The Dantsant in the R.V.C. at 4.30 this afternoon may secure them from Co-eds. Judging from similar functions in the past, anyone expecting keen enjoyment will not be disappointed.

GONE.

A sterling silver Waltham wrist watch was lost in the Arts Building some time on Wednesday. The owner will be greatly pleased if the finder will turn it in to the Janitor of the Arts Building.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL TEAM.

Junior football picture can now be obtained from the Porter at the Union. Price, $2.00. There are enough pictures for all whether you signed for one or not.

ARTS '25.

The class picture of second year Arts will be taken on the steps of the Arts Building on Monday, the 31st, at one p.m. All members of Arts '25 are requested to keep the date and time specified in mind.

FOUND.

A latch key on the steps of the Engineering Building. Owner may obtain same by applying to Harry.

AMERICAN CLUB.

There will be a meeting of the American Club in the Union at 7.30 p.m., Monday, Jan. 31. Every American is expected to turn out so that we can have a good chat together and make our plans for the rest of the year. It has been suggested that we might have a dance about Washington's Birthday time and we want to hear everyone's opinion on this idea.

Further notice as to the room in which we shall meet will be given in Monday's "Daily," so keep the date open and plan to come. The meeting will only be a short one and we want a big attendance.

JUNIOR "A" BASKETBALL.

Junior "A" team will play Westmount Y.M.C.A. to-night at the Molson Gym. The following men are requested to be on hand at 7.45 p.m.: Bryce
 Caplan
 Dobson
 Legg
 Powell
 Rorke
 Silver
 Clfas. B. Rorke.

INTERMEDIATE "A" BASKETBALL.

Intermediate "A" Basketball team will play against the Central Y. M. C. A., at their gymnasium on Drummond street at 9.00 p.m. sharp.

OLD SCOUTS.

Old Scouts' Club executive will meet at 1.00 p.m. to-day in the Arts Building.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

The following will kindly turn out for the first game of the City League Indoor Baseball with the Macdonald students at their college, to-day at 3 p.m.:
 Dickie (capt.)
 K. Wilson
 Zineck
 McCullough
 Clark
 Gauthier
 Ware
 Campbell
 Chamberlain

Instead of the monthly meeting of the association announced for Sunday evening, Jan. 30, in Strathcona Hall, the regular "Sings" will be held. The committee has again endeavored to provide an interesting programme. All students are cordially invited.

SKI-ERS TO COMPETE AT DARTMOUTH

Ski-ers Working Hard For Meet.

STARS BACK.

Meeting on Monday to Decide on Arrangements For Carnival.

The Winter Carnival which is to be held at Dartmouth on Feb. 10th, 11th and 12th, promises to be one in which every event will be keenly contested. As a result the McGill Ski-ing Team will have to go the limit to bring back the championship, which title will again be contested for at the McGill Carnival on Feb. 25th and 26th.

The jumping events will be very close, and as we have all of last year's men back who were in the event, together with several new men, who have earned names for themselves with the Montreal Ski Club, we ought to make a very creditable showing against the American colleges. It is up to every man to enter the event or events he is best fitted for.

The coming trials are creating very great interest amongst the members of the Club. Every man who intends participating is putting in every spare minute practising for his event. Each Faculty will be well represented, and the Faculty which wishes to carry off the honors in the coming events will have to work to the limit to do so.

Judges have already been procured for next Wednesday's events, and the proficiency test will start sharp at 2.15 so that the jumping can also be run off that afternoon.

The meeting which is to be held on Monday afternoon at five in the Union will be a very short one as there are only a few important things that are to be brought up. Every member is asked to be on hand for this meeting. Also the full programme of the club will be outlined to the members. The executive of the club are asked to meet in the Union a few minutes before the meeting, announced in V.C.

College Clippings

Stanford University.

Stanford University was granted a charter to the American Journalists' Association last spring and the organization is already strong and permanently settled. The Stanford publication is credited with being a very successful one.

Toronto University.

Great interest is being taken by the students of the U. of T. in the hockey game against Queen's. The game will take place in the Arena Gardens, which contains five thousand seats. Three thousand tickets have already been sold, which proves that the students of Varsity are very much interested in the game.

Columbia University.

Great interest is being taken in wrestling by the students of Columbia University. During the past few weeks, several important elimination bouts were held in which the bout in the featherweight class was the most interesting.

University of Kansas.

Dead horses are to be arranged in the Lyche Museum, for the purpose of studying the evolution of species. The horse is regarded as one of the best examples of this study. Tooth markings on a horse of the Eocene period are very similar to those of the present ages.

Colgate University.

The Colgate Debating Club gained a victory over that of Harvard. The subject of the debate was, "Resolved that the government shall own and operate the coal mines of the United States." The arguments of both sides were very interesting, but the debaters of Colgate University succeeded in gaining more points. The affair was taken so very enthusiastically that debating may become an annual affair.

University of Pennsylvania.

An all-university assembly was held in this university, in which interesting speeches were the feature. Among those who spoke were Dr. Weygandt, on the subject of "Pennsylvania and Letters," and Mr. Cromey, on sports. Mr. Cromey promised to form classes in various kinds of sport, such as basketball, boxing, wrestling, etc.

University of California.

Professor Sherwood Eddy, the well-known author and philosopher, spoke to the men of this university on the vast changes taking place in the world to-day. Professor Eddy's speech was very interesting, and was well appreciated by the audience. One of his remarks was as follows: "Idealism must supplant materialism, and love must be substituted for hatred, if the great social and industrial problems of the world are to be solved."

University of Illinois.

The following ought to be of interest to the Freshmen of our university: "Spots and toques and all signs of Freshmen individualities were safely tucked away last night, for the yearlings were undergoing strains of debutantes. The occasion of the Freshman introduction to the University society was the annual Freshman Frolic held last night in the Gym Annex."

University of Rochester.

In the University of Rochester, the Freshmen completely outwitted the Sophomores when they gave the latter a banquet. The Sophomores searched over the whole city to find clues as to where the banquet was being held, while the Freshies were rejoicing in the Alumni Gymnasium. There is no need to add that the Freshmen were wild over their victory.

University of Arkansas.

All fraternities of the University of Arkansas have decided to give up their formal fraternity dances during the current session on account of the bad financial conditions prevailing in the South at present.

Wednesday, 6.15 to 7.15 p.m.—Women's Rink, Law '21-'22.

Thursday, 3 to 4 p.m.—Campus Rink, Medicine '25.

Friday, 12 to 1 p.m.—Presbyterian College.

Saturday, 1 to 2 p.m.—Theological College.

The following hours are temporarily interchanged for Wednesday, 2nd, only:

2 to 3 p.m.—Science '24 interchanged with 3 to 4 p.m. Arts '23.

The following hour is altered for Monday, 31st, only:

6.15 to 7.15 p.m. Women's Rink transferred to 5.15 to 6.15 p.m. Campus Rink.

Exhibition Game.

6.15 to 7.15 p.m. Monday 31st, Woman's Rink, between Sci. '21 and Sci. '22 is transferred to Campus Rink 5.15 to 6.15 same day.

THEATRES

NEW GRAND.

Lionel Barrymore, the talented star of stage and screen, is coming to the New Grand Theatre for one week, starting Sunday, in an adaptation of Daniel G. Carter's play, "The Master Mind." This offering provides the theatre with ample opportunity to reveal his histrionic gifts and he takes fullest advantage of them. Mr. Barrymore appears as Henry Allen, who resolved to take revenge upon the District Attorney for sending his brother to the electric chair. He maps out an elaborate revenge, and harbors his hatred for five years. Then he strikes, but after giving his enemy due warning.

But when the opponent is in his power, he feels that his efforts are fruitless against a higher command than man-made vengeance. The girl who has been his instrument in mapping his revenge pleads and appeals to his better nature and he is forced to acknowledge his defeat. This play scored a sensation on the stage and as a picture it is filled with these tense situations and climaxes which keep one in suspense. Mr. Barrymore is supported by a competent cast. The backgrounds are rich in atmosphere, the photography being excellent.

On the same programme will be offered well selected pictures. The concert orchestra, under the direction of David S. Levin, will render the musical programme.

PRINCESS.

A feature act, welcome by all who appreciate tabloid, musical, comedy presented in a snappy, up-to-date form will headline the bill at the Princess Theatre next week, commencing Sunday matinee when "The Little Cottage," George Choo's entertaining little comedy, will be presented. "The Little Cottage" is located at the Junction of Fun Boulevard, Song Avenue and Dance Palace, and has as its occupants Frank Sinclair, Cliff Dixon and Mary Collins, who have a host of charming acquaintances. The piece has a plot and is packed full of all the ingredients that make musical comedy the most pleasing form amusement.

Miss Mabel Berra, Prima Donna and comic opera star, will make her first appearance in vaudeville here. Miss Berra enjoys a wide popularity and her songs cover a wide range that will appeal to every taste.

Profiteers are generally unpopular, but Brown and O'Donnell are one of the exceptions to the rule. They profiteer in fun and their audience derive the benefit from their laugh making skit entitled, "Profiteering in Fun" which they will present.

Handers and Millis are a pair of eccentric comedians, difficult to describe, having any number of novel ways of bagging the exclusive laugh. Their eccentric dancing introduces a number of original steps. Until recently they were the comedy dancing features of "Listen Lester" and one of the Ziegfeld Follies.

Earl Gates & Co. are a dancing trio. Mr. Gates, and his graceful feminine associates have a wide range of numbers, which are said to be technically perfect as well as picturesque. Brent Hayes, "The Master of the Banjo" will render a programme which includes compositions of the great masters as well as a number of the simple plantation melodies.

Fred and Daisy Rial will present a novelty entitled, "A Ring Flirtation." The Rials are aerialists and their feats are both new and hazardous. "The Unusual Duo," sensational and phenomenal roller skaters, will give their exhibition.

GAYETY.

"Dave Marlon's Own Big Show" will open a week's engagement at the Gayety next Monday matinee. Manager B. M. Garfield has received letters from the managers of the theatres at Chicago, Detroit, Toronto, Buffalo and Rochester, and all of them state that this show is positively the best show they have this season.

The Company is headed by Emil (Jazz) Gasper a black-face comedian of unusual accomplishments. He is assisted by Will H. Ward an eccentric comedian who was for many seasons in the better class of musical comedy on Broadway, New York. The other principal members of the cast are Inez Verdier, prima donna; Rose Bernard, Engene; Myrtle Franks, soubrette; George Mack, Albert Dwinell, and Jack Honeywell; and the vaudeville acts are headed by the seven Bryon Brothers Saxo Band, claimed to be the best colored jazz band on the stage. Hazard and Spellman have a wonderful dancing act which has gained a reputation on the best vaudeville circuits. The Golden Trio are second to none in burlesque today; and last but not least Emil Jazz Gasper in this famous black-face specialty with which he has made millions laugh.

The scenery is gorgeous, the electrical effects wonderful, and the wardrobe beautiful.

ORPHEUM.

"Tidal Wave," which the Orpheum Players present next week, is one of those plays that lend themselves to the unusual in colorfulness. The major portion is enacted on an island in the South Pacific where the native scenery and the unfamiliar people provide a picturesque quality that cannot fail to charm. "Tidal Wave" is in many ways reminiscent of "The Bird of Paradise," which left pleasant memories with all who saw it. But while "Tidal Wave" is colorful in its settings and novel in many ways, its story is compelling; one that holds an audience interested.

The story of "Tidal Wave" opens in a village on the coast of Maine. The central characters are two brothers; the one is a likeable sort, but with a weakness for drink, which he believes he has overcome, but the other brother, desiring to win the girl they both love and also the berth of second in command on a sailing vessel, taunts him and he yields to the temptation. Finally he leaves the village and becomes a derelict, landing eventually on an island in the South Pacific. Here he becomes a beach comber and takes up an aimless existence among the natives, one of whom, a strikingly handsome girl, falls in love with him. But Fate intervenes and the other brother, accompanied by their mother, and a party of friends, lands on the island and there is a meeting between the brothers which has a tragic result. But the denouement is satisfactory and an audience finds the ending of the sort that leaves pleasing memories.

LOEW'S.

Mary Pickford's greatest success and latest production "The Love Light" will be the outstanding feature on Loew's programme next week. This film creation is hailed as the triumph of the motion picture world and the fact that the most famous film star known creates the principal role should be sufficient proof of the quality of the picture.

The story is a thrilling one throughout, with pathos and comedy intermingled. Miss Pickford does some strong emotional acting in this play and is given wonderful opportunity to display her ability. Several very big scenes are featured, including a most realistic portrayal of a shipwreck. The British-Canadian News Weekly contains some interesting Canadian topics for next week.

On the vaudeville end of the programme a novel musical act will be featured. Elwyn's Rag-O-Marimba Band, clever musicians, will render selections from "classic to jazz." The Marimba is the instrument which became so popular at the last Pan-American exposition and has a peculiar charm in its sound. H. Golden will present "Dancing Supreme"—a terpsichorean act featuring Hamilton, Calvert and Romeo; Tate and Tate have curves, smiles and acrobaticity to offer; Williams and Taylor will entertain with drollery and comicallities and as a special attraction, Adrian, an oddity in laughing specialties, will be presented by Henry Lewis.

The Club, the present members will be glad to extend to them equal privileges of membership and eligibility to the offices above mentioned. There is no doubt that interest among the ladies will be fully as keen as among men students, and there seems to be a feeling that the presence of co-eds will make club meetings vastly more interesting.

Membership will be open to anyone who is interested in matters dramatic, especially to undergraduates registered in the Department of English, and more especially to any who are taking or have followed courses in the drama. It was deemed unwise for the present to limit membership.

The executive has been authorized to meet the R. V. C. to decide with them upon a constitution for the Club and to fix a programme for the session.

ARTS '23 ADD ONE MORE TO LIST OF WINS

Defeated Dents '23 in Fast Hockey Game.

PLAY WAS ROUGH.

Both Sides Worked Hard But Victory Came to Better Team.

Arts '23 defeated Dents '23 in a fast game of hockey by the score of six to nothing yesterday afternoon. The ice was in pretty good condition, and the game was rather rough, being characterized by a great deal of slashing on both sides. The winners gave a good exhibition of hockey, and forced the play right from the start. Their outstanding stars were Cantley and Badger, both of whom made some spectacular rushes, while Amaron played a stellar game in goal. For the losers Lane, Laisley and Martin showed up to good advantage.

The game opened with a rush, and after ten minutes of hard playing, mostly in front of Dents goals, Johnson notched the first tally with a pretty shot. Five minutes later Duval made it two to nothing. Dents started with a rush after the face-off and it looked as if they would score. Amaron made a nice save; then Badger got the puck, rushed his way through his opponents single handed and scored after one minute of play. A couple of minutes later Johnson scored his second goal of the game. In the second period Johnson and Badger each notched one.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Arts '23.	Dents '22.
Amaron.....goal	McNally
Badger.....defence	Donnegin
Cantley.....defence	McRae
Cantley.....forward	Lane
Johnson.....forward	Laisley
Duval.....forward	Martin

Substitutes—
Arts '23—Hutchison and Egg.
Dents '23—Mills, Brown, Woodman and Robideaux.

MCGILL RETURNED MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

From the "Daily" Files

Psychology of Good Coaching — The "Times" re English Athletics — The "Daily" Honor Roll — University of Paris Presents Medal to McGill — Sir William Peterson Favors Dormitories — Dr. Withrow's Lecture.

November Fourth.

1911.—The Premier of Quebec made a personal tour of the University, and at the well-attended Convocation in the Royal Victoria College, Sir Lomer Gouin became an Honorary Graduate of McGill.

At the second try-out Intercollegiate Debate, held in the Union, a very keen discussion took place on "Home Rule in Ireland."

What good coaching could do for football was amply illustrated in an article by Edward L. Fox, entitled "Great Moments in Football." The psychological influence of the football coach was demonstrated. The article reads: "Lashed by coaches' tongues or stirred by the appeal of a personal, an apparently disorganized and defeated rabble often becomes a steady but furious fighting unit."

1912.—McGill won a game of football by very clever play when she defeated the Queen's aggregation. The Presbyterian team was ahead at half-time, but was completely outplayed during the last two quarters. "The home team now lead in the Intercollegiate race."

Queen's University defeated the second McGill team in a strenuous argument by a score of 13 to 10.

The Queen's Soccer team whitewashed McGill in a very hot battle, defeating us by a score of 5 to 0.

1913.—The fact that the Queen's football team defeated McGill in Rugby, thereby winning their first game in three years, appears to have proved too much for the Presbyterian students. Two hundred of them, by way of celebration, held an "old-time" rush in the business section of Kingston, and played high jinks for several hours. The Grand Opera House was the centre of the storm.

The "London Times" in a leading article on university athletics lamented the apathy displayed by English undergraduates in allowing events of the Oxford Freshman Sports to be carried away by Rhodes scholars. The "Times" was strongly against debaring Rhodes scholars from competing, but greatly emphasized that the English public school boy ought somehow to be "stirred or bribed" into keenness for sport.

1914.—Dean Birkett addressed the Medical students after a lecture in Chemistry, and spoke about the necessity of joining the McGill Regiment as soon as possible. All lectures were to stop at four to enable all men to attend drill.

1915.—The Eastern Townships Club held their first meeting of the year, which, though not very large, was very successful. A motion was passed that the club meet once per month.

Thirty Year Mechanical Engineers paid a visit to the shops of the Canadian Vickers, and, piloted by Professor Roberts, inspected the new No. 1 Icebreaker as well as some of the larger shells.

When the Faculty at Ottawa College refused to grant a customary holiday, all the students walked out on strike. Four of the men were dismissed, while the remainder of the English students were reported "about to leave college."

1916.—The "McGill Daily" reported a large honor roll. Ninety-four men, who served on the staff since its foundation in 1911, were stated to be in khaki.

A Freshman-Sophomore Smoker was staged by the Science men, and the affair proved to be a great success in every way. Dr. Barnes and J. C. Heaney were the speakers of the evening.

A Smoker and an Election started the activities of the American Club. Plans for the year were to include several interesting social functions.

1918.—Dr. Gordon presented a very interesting case report to the Medical Society. The report was discussed by a very large assembly.

Thirty-five were present at the third and largest meeting of the Mandolin Club.

Miss Hurlbatt addressed the R.V.C. Undergraduate Society on "English College Spirit."

The circulation of the "McGill Daily" was greatly increased when the Macdonald girls decided to subscribe to the McGill undergraduate newspaper.

November Fifth.

1912.—The Parkdale Football team was to clash with the Red and White in an exhibition game. A very good game was expected, as there were many old Varsity men on the O.R.F.U. team.

A very interesting theme was treated in a most masterly manner when Dr. Alcock gave a University penditure for college residences. A lecture on the subject, "How and Why We Boil Potatoes."

The morning was marked in the fourth and fifth years Medicine by a suspension of lectures; instead, a sent in an interesting account of the special lecture was delivered by Mr. recent "bluff" put up by the Cana-

Mane on "Intestinal Stasis," in the Royal Victoria Hospital.

1913.—The second meeting of the Cercle Francais took place in the Edinburgh Cafe, where possibilities of having the club members take part in theatrical performances were thrashed out in discussion. Plays of this kind were voted as great assistants in increasing the students' vocabulary in French and knowledge of the language as spoken on the streets of Paris.

"It is the duty of higher civilization to make and not to mar the lower civilizations with which it comes in contact." This was the subject of an interesting address by Mr. Lionel Curtis, on "The Ultimate Problem of Politics," before the Women's Canadian Club, at the Royal Victoria College.

1914.—Old clothes and boots of the same character were necessary for members of the Railway Club who undertook a trip to the C.N.R. Tunnel. This engineering work, one of the largest that had ever been attempted, afforded the best opportunity of viewing practical methods of exceptional value.

Rev. Mr. Thompson, M.A., a McGill graduate, who was about to leave for China, was to address the Wesleyans under the auspices of the Mission Department.

1915.—The R.V.C. girls were reported very hard at work with regard to the Red Cross undertakings. A very enthusiastic and business-like meeting was held, at which Professor Leacock delivered one of his characteristic speeches.

The Orchestra held a combined rehearsal and meeting at the Strathcona Hall, at which an urgent appeal was made for more members.

1917.—Dr. Symonds gave a second lecture at the Strathcona Hall, and discussed "What is Religion?" The lecture was well attended. The main thing brought out was that "the religious instinct is the only element in man which will never die."

Faithful followers of the Lamp of Geology made interesting discoveries in a ramble among the Ordovician fossils and crystals of igneous intrusions, at Pointe Claire. Dr. Bancroft headed the enthusiastic outing.

1919.—An interesting and significant incident was the presentation of a medal to McGill University by the University of Paris. A copy of such a medal had been sent to each of the universities of the Allied Nations. The idea was to point out how the varied institutions of learning of the Allied Nations had been drawn together by the Great War.

November Sixth.

1911.—After a hard fight on a slippery campus, McGill defeated the All-Montreal team and won the English Rugby Championship. The score was 13 to 0.

The members of the Western Club were entertained by a popular ex-officer, Dr. Todd, who provided a splendid evening for the men from "the Gates of Sunset."

1912.—An editorial hailed the appearance at the University of the famous Nationalistic leader, Mr. Henri Bourassa. Mr. Bourassa was to address the students in the Union on the Nationalistic point of view on the question of a Canadian Navy.

1913.—McGill lost to the M.A.A.A. team in both the Senior and Intermediate matches, allowing themselves to be outclassed by scores of 1 to 0 and 3 to 0.

One hundred ladies were addressed at the Royal Victoria College by Dean Moysse on a most interesting illustrated lecture on Dartmoor. Himself a native of Devonshire, the Dean certainly had a very intimate knowledge of the vicinity. Dr. Moysse spoke at great length of the unique formations in Devonshire and of the remains of the ancient tin industry.

1914.—Much improvement was shown by the Intermediate Football team when they were given a very lengthy signal drill. Many substitutes were out at the practice, and a feeling of quiet confidence prevailed in McGill's ability to lower the Varsity colors.

The Regiment and the C.O.T.C. were to be merged when it was officially decided that the McGill Provisional Regiment was to become a training corps for officers. The special class was to be made up of students and others who might wish to qualify for commissions.

1915.—Principal William Peterson was totally in favor of a $400,000 expenditure for college residences. A donation of $150,000 already made possible at least a partial construction of dormitories.

Corporal George Gichrist, Sci. '15, was sent in an interesting account of the recent "bluff" put up by the Canadians during the advance of the Allied line. The enemy was completely mystified and got a bad scare.

1916.—Lieut. C. Cooper, Sci. '12, of the Royal Engineers, was reported seriously wounded, and Lance-Corp. W. R. Hastings, Lieut. A. L. Levick, and Lieut. W. H. Gordon were killed in action.

1917.—S. A. Holling was elected president of the Literary and Debating Society. At the meeting, a programme for the year's work was also drawn up.

Science trimmed Meds. in football by a very close margin. The latter went down to defeat only in the final stage of the game, and turned the bottom card in a score of 7 to 6.

November Seventh.

1912.—Ken Duggan was elected captain of the Junior Football Team. The second Polo-Team defeated the Intermediate Y.M.C.A. by a score of 4 to 3.

1913.—The Juniors defeated the Sophomores in a football game by a score of 26 to 5, and sq won the Wood Cup. This made the second time that the '15 had won the Cup.

1914.—In a scholarly address to the Medical Society, the eminent pathologist, J. G. Adams, who was repeatedly receiving tokens of international recognition, gave a true example of his versatility, when he spoke on the "Evolution of Infectious Diseases."

Many facts concerning Canada's natural resources were learned by students who attended Dean Adams' interesting lecture in the Chemistry Building.

1916.—The Science team easily beat the Arts players, shutting them out completely by a score of 29 to 0. The Science men were much more experienced and far heavier than the Arts.

The Law common room was well filled with prospective legal lights when a very naughty query was argued by embryo lawyers in the first Mock Trial of the session. Justice Greenhields presided, and added greatly to the dignity of the occasion.

A very cosmopolitan crowd gathered in the girls' gymnasium of the Macdonald College, when the girls met to celebrate the annual masquerade dance. All the decorations were cleverly carried out in Halloween fashion, and the evening was marked as a successful venture.

At an open meeting of the Students' Council, it was decided that Christmas Boxes were to be sent to all McGill men on active service.

Freshmen won at the Inter-year Tennis Tournament, played at the R.V.C., scoring 124 points. Seniors came second with 92 points, while the Sophomores and Juniors gained 86 and 83 points respectively.

1917.—The members of the Cercle Francais came together for the initial meet of the year, when they assembled at the Dutch Tea Rooms. Dr. Villard was the speaker of the evening, and this time selected from his vast stores of witty and interesting material some well-fitted remarks on "The French Language and the War."

Col. Andrew McPhail, Arts '88, Med. '91, was being mentioned in Government circles as a Union candidate in his native county of Queens, P.E.I.

A Kingston professor, Sir Arthur Lee, K.C.B., M.P., then Director of Food Production under the Government, and who was also at one time Professor of Strategy and Tactics at the R.M.C., presented his estate to the Dominion. This estate included a mansion house, a library, and a collection of art.

1919.—Dr. Withrow delivered the second of his lectures on "Fit to Fight" at the Central Y.M.C.A. His subject was developed by means of a film entitled "How Life Begins." The lecture was delivered under the auspices of the Social Service Club, and was intended to forewarn students of the dangers of social diseases.

At the Macdonald musicale much local talent was uncovered. The well-balanced programme was effectively rendered, and the College Orchestra's selections were well received.

Suits and Overcoats Tailored-To-Your-Measure

"WHEN I want Good Clothes Tailored-to-Measure I always go to one of the English & Scotch Woollen Co. tailor shops. Experience has taught me that there is no place else to go."

That is what we heard one of our old-time customers tell a friend the other day. We then asked him why he had recommended us so highly to his friend. Here is what he told us: After looking over the clothes elsewhere carefully, I compared your fabric quality, your workmanship, the style and fit of your clothes with others, and found that for less money at your stores I could get a garment far superior in every detail to those shown in other shops. My experience with English & Scotch Woollen Co. Tailored-to-Measure Suits and Overcoats has taught me that there is simply no place else to go.
